

Gator Talk

September 12, 2018

It is already the middle of the first quarter!

Teachers may send home interim reports about grades and should have already entered grades into the Student Progress site for you to review. Remember that this year, in addition to second and third grade, first grade receives report cards with letter grades beginning the first quarter.

However, the best information comes from letting your child share what they are learning. In addition, you can extend and support learning while at home by reading to your child and asking such questions as: "What did you learn about in the story?" How did that story/author make you feel and why? Add/subtract/multiply a number by _____, what is the answer?

Each week as part of our PBIS Schoolwide program we are learning about a "VIRTUE."

This week, the word we are discussing is "caring", feeling or showing concern for others. During the next two weeks we will learn about "cleanliness" and compassion.
